A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

An annual message from the Director almost automatically becomes a repetitive expression of confidence, pride and gratitude. The confidence stems from the reassuring performances of students who continue to meet challenges and reach significant goals. The pride comes as a result of the impressively accumulative number of goals reached. The gratitude develops and grows because our students show an eager kind of willingness to share their joys in success with their teachers and their Director.

Above are stated some of the continuing satisfactions which are happily typical of the experiences one has as a staff member of Lick-Wilmerding. They are the rewards we each enjoy and devoutly wish we could adequately express our appreciation for-- often and with clarion impact. For here, in this area of school life the true Lick spirit lives and thrives.

As this is a statement for the 1962 TIGER, some mention should be made concerning the Class of 1962, which this yearbook honors. This group has been outstanding in cooperation, understanding and friendliness. That the past school year has been a singularly successful one is due in no small way to our seniors. We are very proud of them and enthusiastically grateful.

Finally I wish to repeat that I continue to feel the greatest appreciation for being given the opportunity which being the Director represents. To be Lick-Wilmerding's Director is the most challenging educational opportunity anyone could hope to find.

Edwin M. Rich

MR. LEONARD BREGER

We remember the testing, our entrance exam.
The slender man saying, "Spell this if you can!"

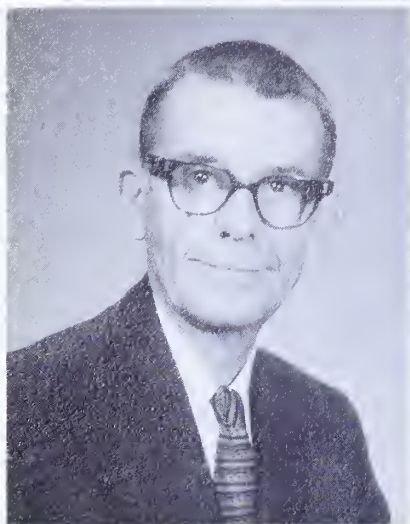

We, the Class of '62, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Robert "Wick" Pratt, who has devoted his life to Lick-Wilmerding High School. Since he was graduated from the school in 1924 he has been teaching students of Lick to work with their hands. At the present time he is metal shop and mechanical drawing teacher and the favorite chaperon at all the Lick dances. He is affectionately (familiarily) known as "Wick" to students and teachers alike. His broad knowledge of arts and crafts, his invaluable advice and assistance in maintaining and repairing the school building, his willingness to do any job, no matter how difficult, for the school, and his good nature make him one of the most popular and respected members of the Lick-Wilmerding faculty.

M. GOLDYNE

The FACULTY, both stern and warm,
Guided our ship through calm and storm.

Then came the waiting - "It wasn't too tough!"
Or - "Maybe I flubbed it!" or "Boy, was it rough!"

Pi Paradox

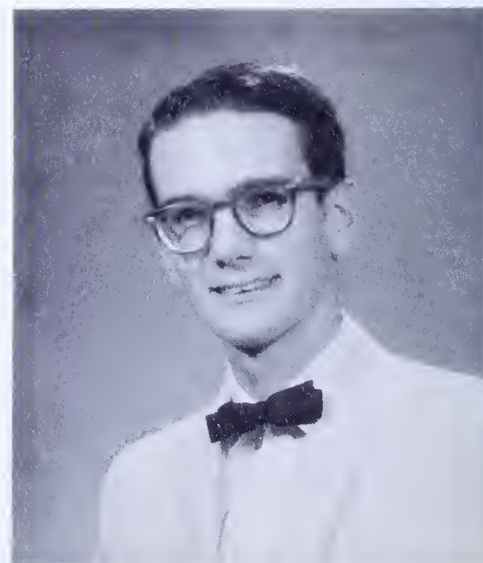

The reciprocal of any odd number can be expressed as a repeating decimal. The sum or difference of two repeating decimals is a repeating decimal.

$\frac{\pi}{4} = 1 - \frac{1}{3} + \frac{1}{5} - \frac{1}{7} + \frac{1}{9} - \frac{1}{11} \dots$
Thus π can be expressed as the sums and differences of a series of reciprocals of odd numbers. Consequently π can be expressed as a repeating decimal. Therefore π is rational.

But π is transcendental.

Our high-school years have come and gone.

We've worked and fought to see the dawn.

And now of knowledge we can boast,
So publicly I make a toast.

I toast to things that we've learned here
And to the friends we hold so dear.

Since in this world of dark and doubt
Lick's guiding hand has helped us out.

I toast to Lick because I know
Lick's made the tree of knowledge grow.

But all I ask is just one thing--
Who's this guy named Wilmerding?

Tiger Terrors

Sparted by All-Conference, All-City Frank Young and Ken Adelson, the Tigers rambled to a 4 and 2 third place B.C.L. finish. Halfback Adelson and tackle Young literally tore the league apart. Ken was a brilliant change of pace runner and one of the toughest men in the league to bring down. Frank, on the other hand, brought a prodigious number of runners to the turf. He and his counterpart Bruce Donoghue, who was another All-Conference selection, were as feared a pair of tackles as the league had to offer. Donoghue and Young had plenty of help, though. Muscular Steve Graich, omnipresent Lou's O'ls and All-Conference center Gerry Courtney made the Tigers as tough as nails up front. Adelson, however, was not left alone in the backfield. Rich Inman quarterbacked the Tigers. Inman, best known for his basketball, did an admirable job in his signal caller's role. The speed of the backfield was to be found in Courtney Van Evera and George Ogawa. Van Evera's winged feet made him a dangerous ball carrier, but Ogawa was different. George could never seem to find a hole to run through, thus his nickname No-hole Ogawa. These gridiron greats and their compatriots made Lick football unpredictable and exciting.

Towering Tigers

Lacking height, the Tigers had to rely on their ability to score, and it almost worked. Scoring at a fantastic rate, the Tigers clawed their way into second place, which was their final resting place. The difference between Lick and first place was about one foot — the one-foot height differential that made Concordia's Rentner the tallest center in the league and Concordia the champs.

Although they couldn't claim the role of champions, the Tigers showed the Bay County League a scoring threat that had not and may not ever be equaled. Rich Inman carried the torch through the first half of the season, and Dave Ottey relit it at the half-way point. Inman and Ottey shattered school and league records as if they were glass. Rich averaged a phenomenal 23 points a game to lead the Tigers' point-making machine. Dave Ottey was runnerup for scoring honors with a 17 point a game average.

These statistics do not paint a true picture though. Inman was not only a prolific scorer but a top rebounder and play maker as well. He showed his all-around excellence by singlehandedly demolishing S.R.M.A. with a 50-point performance. Dave Ottey made the backcourt combination complete by being a ball-hawking, phenomenally effective defensive man. He too showed his ability by stealing opponents blind, especially Menlo. He stole everything except uniforms while hitting 40 points in an Acorn massacre.

Dave had help, as defense was the other half of the Lick arsenal. John Gustorf, who led the team in rebounds, and Steve Leonard, who blocked countless shots when uninjured, combined with Ottey to make the Tiger press one of the League's most effective game-winning tactics. Four men, however, don't make a winner. Clutch efforts by Captain Walt Curtner, a backcourt whiz; huge Bruce Donoghue, the League's toughest man; George Ogawa, Bill Farber, Tully Simoni, Russ Daily, and others made the Tigers the feared opponents they were.

This fantastic high-scoring season was climaxed on an equally phenomenal note. In an unprecedented move the Tigers had both backcourt men chosen for All-Conference honors. Rich Inman's overall average and Dave Ottey's late season splurge (2nd half average-27 points a game) gave rise to their selections. Steve Leonard rounded out Lick honors by copping 3rd team All-Conference laurels.

Mr. Vuk coached basketball and really gave it quite his all.
Each game he tried and tried and tried, but then he cried and cried and cried.

For two years we washed the gym floor with our sweat,
But where are those muscles they promised we'd get?

Lick Larrupers

The old baseball saying is that pitching is 75% of the game. The validity of the statement has often been questioned, but the Lick Tigers will agree wholeheartedly.

The key to the Tigers' championship hopes lies buried in the arm of Gerry Courtney. This phenomenal sophomore has pitched himself into B.C.L. prominence with his "Big Bend." This pitch is a curve ball which most batters find nearly impossible to hit. Courtney's curve gives him an excellent chance for All-Conference honors.

The other 25% of the game is still, however, of vital importance. Without hitting and fielding even the best pitcher will fail. The Tigers, though, have the material to back up Courtney both afield and at the plate. The outfield bases its greatest hopes on the arm of Bob Klein. Klein's rifle arm, along with Mark Joseph's speed, makes the Tiger outer defense as deadly to a fly as a spider. The infield holds its own too. David Sederquist is vying for all-Conference honors at the initial sack. The backbone of the team, the double-play combo, has been handled capably by Bill Tobin and Skip Green with Eric Richardson and Rich Inman getting their shots in at both infield and outfield. The hot carner is cooled off by Gustorf. Few runners come around the far turn with Gus patrolling the area. The catching, which is the toughest position to play, is taken care of by one of the League's smartest baseball men, Bill Morgan. These fellas, along with the bench depth, also contribute their share of hitting to produce the necessary runs to win. But what makes the Tigers real competitors is their hustle. It is this quality which makes the mediocre great. This same spirit has made the tigers winners.

Mercedes Gamboa's Rambler; like money in the bank.
She pulled away from the curb one day and dropped the gasoline tank.

Bathing Bengals

Led by the outstanding performances of Mante Smith, the Tiger mermen enter the water once again in hopes of "victory at sea." Smith is unique in that this amazing freshman swims an individual medley, a variety of swimming events. The Tigers' talents are not, however, limited to Smith. Paddling prowess is exhibited in many individual categories. The breast stroke provides the closest team competition. Both Paul Shattuck and Dick Ward are continually fighting for the top spot. Turning over from the breast stroke, Jan Gibbs and Larry Purmant give Lick a powerful duo in the backstroke event. John Haefler transcends the water slightly as he and his water wings carry the Tigers in the butterfly stroke. Phil Williams, Jim Madden and Joe Hall make a return to the churning waves most rewarding. This awesome trio lead the Lick fin flippers in the free style events. Even without a submarine the Tigers present a formidable opponent in any pool.

Notorious Netmen

Swinging their strangest in years, the Tiger netmen have few equals in the League this year. Regardless of where one looks, either singles or doubles, there is an abundance of talent. In fact, some of the rapid rackets are so versatile that they are used at times in both singles and doubles. This overwhelming ability becomes apparent when such men as Dave Ottey, Glen Pritzker, Steve Langmaid, John Galgiani, Larry Purmant, Pete Pollat, and many more start swinging their rackets. The great depth of the Tigers with little drop-off in talent gives Lick the ability to swing into a championship.

Travelin' Tigers

Running up a storm of sawdust, the Tiger fleet feet blazed a trail of victories. Such swifties as Ed Kaplawitz, Burt Farber, Brian Barbata, Ralph Gaadwin, and others compose the main attacking force of the ground pounders. The track events wouldn't, however, be complete without those men whose winged feet also carry them skyward every so often. The Lick hurdlers make up the remainder of the track events by featuring Andy Hauer and Bill Farber.

With the legs doing their part, it's time for the well-muscled arms to take over. The field events bring the broad muscles of Frank Young, Steve Gratch, Paul Garin, and Craig Valente to light. Young and Company do an excellent job in securing points in the shot put, the discus, and both high and broad jumps.

The Tigers will do a lot of traveling both on the ground and in the air this year.

Jump, sprint, stretch, strain,
Makes it hard to walk again.

J. V. FOOTBALL

Front row: Coach Stearn; T. Bass (Manager); #27, M. Groothaert; #25, J. Tepper; #13, C. Root; #21, D. Brydon; #50, V. Richards; #62, S. Schoenfeld; #54, H. Lebo; #63, N. Brown. Back row: #60, B. Heart, desire and hustle were the nucleus of the Tiger J.V.'s. The victories were few, but the fighting spirit never died.

This tough Tiger eleven was paced by its huge freshman quarterback Press Clewe. Clewe's outstanding play made him a candidate for a future varsity job. Clewe had very capable help in the backfield in both Dave Rahl and Chuck Pengra. Rahl did a yeomanlike job before he was sidelined with an injury. Pengra, however, took up the slack in excellent fashion to keep the backfield potent.

The backs though can't move without a line. The Tiger front ranks, although often outweighed, nevertheless did a consistently brilliant job. Bob Chiles and Sandy Schaefer at ends, Jeff Key at guard and Vic Richards at center bolstered the Tigers up front. These players and their associates gave many an opposing back headaches. The Tigers showed the kind of spirit that makes a successful season more than simply one which produces a string of victories.

Tall Tigers

J. V. BASKETBALL

Using height as their weapon and the championship as their goal, the Tigers embarked upon a tough schedule. Led by Pete Pollat, their backcourt ace who copped all-Conference honors, the Tigers, though faltering, never fell. Pollat, Gordon, and Madden led the assaults on opposing buckets, but Lick's real strength was in the rebounding. Jim Madden, Ross McClave, and Gary Godfrey, among others, fought the rest of the League into fatigue on the backboards. These great rebounding efforts accounted for many a close win.

The Tigers were also defensive-minded. The same big men who did the rebounding also held the opposition's scoring in check. The backcourt combo held their own as well. It worked so efficiently that by the time a team left Lick they could almost swear that the mounted Tiger press was a tradition. The Tigers did not quite accomplish their initial purpose, but through their fight and determination they garnered a 3rd place finish and an 8 - 6 record.

Thank God! Praise Allah! (a sigh) - Amen!
I'll never write a poem again.

Bengal Bombers

J.V. BASEBALL

Freshman coach Marshall Stearn leads a well-balanced nine into league competition. As the firing commenced for real, the Tigers were relying on the sturdy arm of Dunc Brydon and the bats of Dove Rohlif and Vic Richards as well as tap flight hitting and fielding from everyone else. Aligned defensively Lick is pretty tight. Dove Einstein mans the initial sack. The keystone combination features Jim Dearth and Vic Richards. At the for turn Bob Hughes handles the leather. The pasture includes Nelson Brawn in left field and Dennis Loyden in center field. Rightfield is still open to fierce competition. The bottery is composed of junk ball artist Brydan and backstop Rahlif. Add a strang bench and it is easy to see why the Tigers are looking forward to an extremely successful season.

EDITOR'S STATEMENT

This yearbook is a final statement in itself. All that I can add is my appreciation to the staff, teachers, publisher and long suffering parents who have seen this yearbook through to completion.
